

EchoBreaker

Break your filter bubble

AI-powered perspective diversity for everyday readers

A Chrome extension that detects political framing and surfaces
contrasting viewpoints in real time

The Echo Chamber Problem

EchoBreaker is the solution.

What EchoBreaker Gives You

Framing Detection

Auto-classifies articles on 40+ news sites as Left, Center, or Right with a confidence score

Bubble Score

Shannon-entropy-based score (0-100) measuring the diversity of your reading diet

Contrasting Perspectives

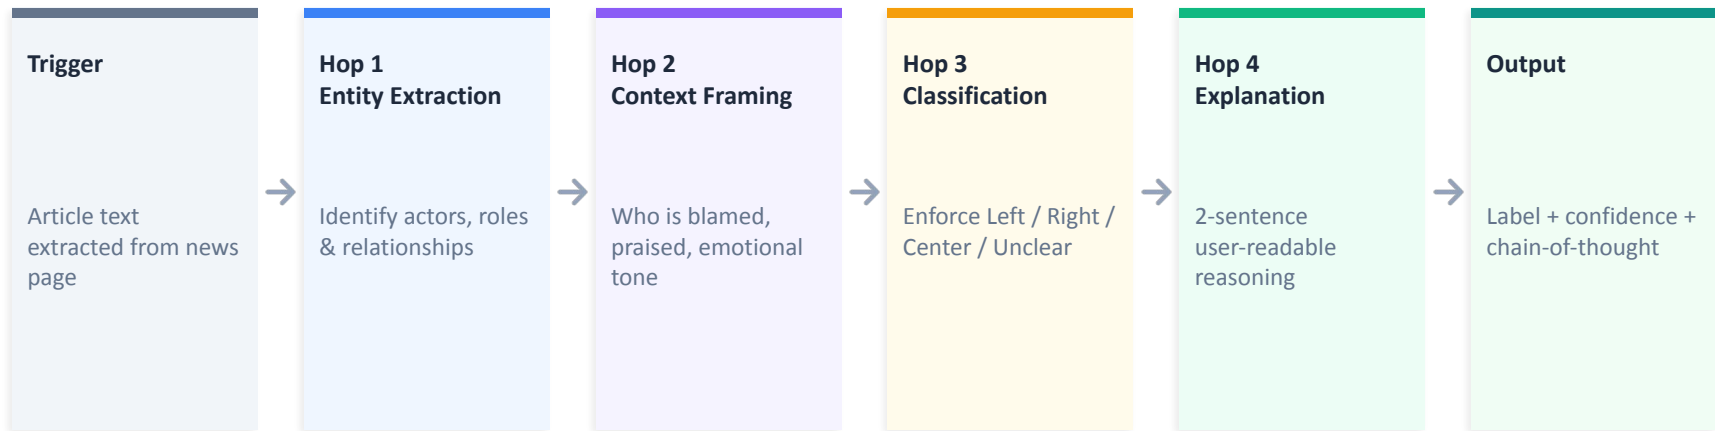

Instantly surfaces articles on the same topic from the opposite political framing

Reflect Now Engine

On-demand AI insight about your personal filter bubble and reading habit gaps

4-Hop FANTA Classification Pipeline

All 4 hops are executed in a single Gemini API call using structured JSON Schema, preventing the model from skipping steps or hallucinating labels.

gemini-3.1-flash-lite

fetch API (no backend)

JSON Schema enforcement

single call · 4-hop chain

How EchoBreaker Is Built

UI Layer

3 React apps: Popup (gauge), Sidepanel (framing detail), Options (API key config)

Service Worker + Content Script

Background orchestrator routes between content script, DB, and Gemini API. Content script injected into allowlisted domains, scrapes article body, strips ads/DOM noise.

IndexedDB (local)

Reading memories, API config, bubble scores, fully offline

Gemini API (external)

FANTA pipeline classification via gemini-3.1-flash-lite

Tech Stack

Manifest V3

Vite

React

Tailwind CSS

Google Gemini API

IndexedDB

Seeing EchoBreaker in Action

1 Open ThePrint article: "Modi govt wants to put caste census in cold storage: Congress"

2 EchoBreaker silently runs the FANTA pipeline in the background

3 Popup shows Bubble Score 8/100 and Left-leaning label at 90% confidence

4 Sidepanel reveals full Hop 4 reasoning + contrasting perspective recommendations

EchoBreaker doesn't tell you what to think, it shows you what you're missing.

Screenshots

Already analyzed — showing cached result.

Left-leaning 90% confidence

Modi govt wants to put caste census in cold storage: Congress – ThePrint – PTIFeed

The Congress party alleges that the Modi government intends to delay or indefinitely postpone the caste census, accusing Prime Minister Narendra Modi of "massive deception" and "misleading" the country. Congress leader Jairam Ramesh claims the government plans to amend Article 334-A of the women's reservation law, stating caste census results will take years, despite other states completing surveys quickly. This comes as Parliament is set to discuss bills related to the Women's Reservation Act.

3/3 samples agreed

Hide reasoning

CLASSIFIER REASONING (STAGE 2)

The article frames the Congress party's allegations against the Modi government regarding the caste census and the women's reservation law. The summary highlights Congress's accusations of "massive deception" and "misleading" the country. The framing-loaded passages consistently use strong, negative language to portray the government's intentions. For example, quote 1 uses "cold storage," "misleading," and "massive deception" to characterize the government's alleged plan. Quote 2 reinforces the "cold storage" metaphor, implying deliberate obstruction. Quote 3 suggests the government is "overlooking the fact" that other states completed surveys quickly, framing their stance as dismissive. Finally, quote 4 adds "as usual" to the accusations of "misleading" and "massive deception," suggesting a pattern of dishonesty. These phrases collectively present a critical and accusatory framing of the government's actions, aligning with a left-leaning perspective that emphasizes social justice issues (caste census) and criticizes perceived government deception.

FRAMING-LOADED PASSAGES (STAGE 1)

"The Congress on Sunday alleged that the government wants to put the caste census in "cold storage" and that Prime Minister Narendra Modi wants to amend the women's reservation law with the agenda of "misleading" the country, engaging in "massive deception."

→ The phrases "cold storage," "misleading," and "massive deception" are emotionally charged and accusatory, framing the government's actions as intentionally deceptive and obstructive.

"It is clear that the Modi government wants to put the caste census in cold storage," Ramesh said on X."

→ The phrase "cold storage" is a metaphor that implies deliberate inaction and shelving of an important issue, framing the government's intent negatively.

"But now the Modi government wants to amend Article 334-A saying that the caste census results will not be available for a few years – overlooking the fact that both Bihar and Telangana completed the comprehensive caste survey in less than six months," he said."

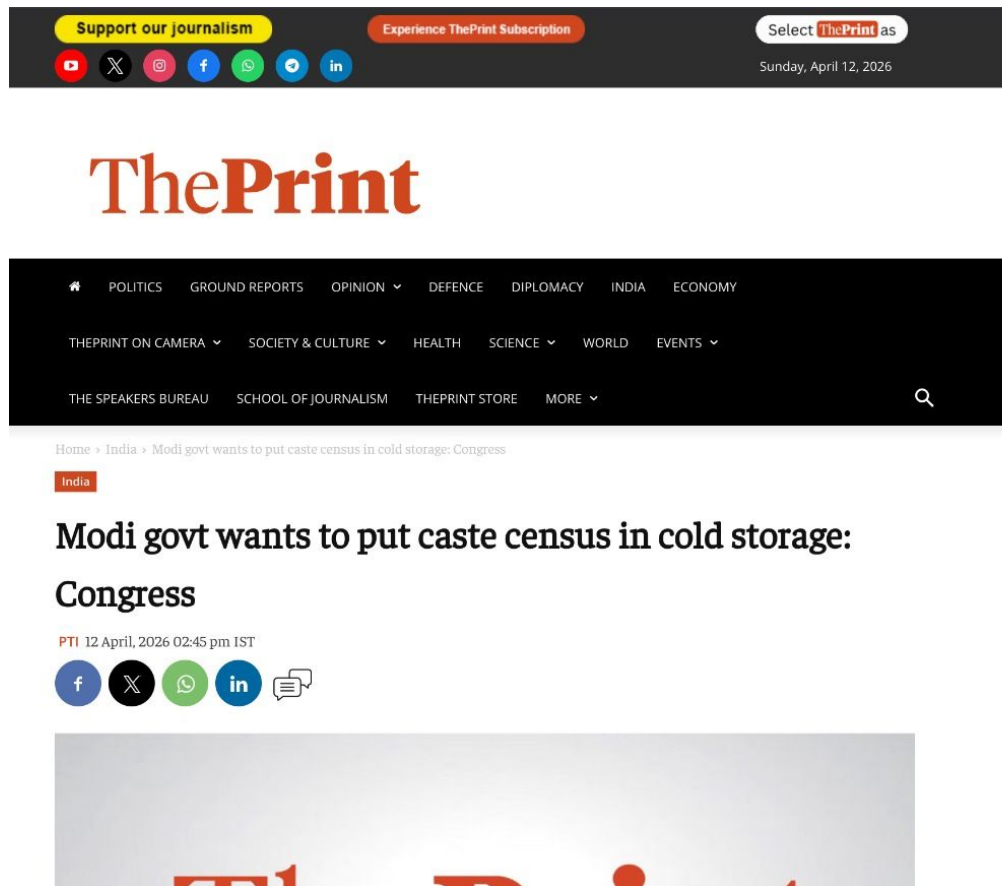

→ The use of "overlooking the fact" frames the government's statement as dismissive of readily available evidence, implying a deliberate attempt to obscure the truth.

"The prime minister is, as usual, "misleading" the country and engaging in massive deception, Ramesh said."

→ The adverbs "as usual" and the strong accusations of "misleading" and "massive deception" frame the Prime Minister's actions as a pattern of dishonesty.

EchoBreaker runs a 2-stage pipeline: an extraction call pulls evidence, then 3 classification calls at different temperatures vote on the label. The reasoning above is from the most-confident sample that voted for the winning label.

Screenshots

Already analyzed — showing cached result.

Left-leaning 90% confidence

Modi govt wants to put caste census in cold storage: Congress – ThePrint – PTIFeed

The Congress party alleges that the Modi government intends to delay or indefinitely postpone the caste census, accusing Prime Minister Narendra Modi of "massive deception" and "misleading" the country. Congress leader Jairam Ramesh claims the government plans to amend Article 334-A of the women's reservation law, stating caste census results will take years, despite other states completing surveys quickly. This comes as Parliament is set to discuss bills related to the Women's Reservation Act.

3/3 samples agreed

Why this label?

Bubble score: 34 · caste census, women's reservation, political strategy

AI-generated framing labels may be wrong. Treat as a starting point, not ground truth.

Screenshots

Already analyzed — showing cached result.

